HN the year 1869—fifty-six years ago—a store for the manufacture of store fixtures was established at 144½ Walnut Street. The owner of this store was Henry Kruse. This was the beginning of the H. Kruse Show Case Co., now located at Pearl and Main Sts. In the course of time Mr. Kruse died, leaving a well established business with an enviable reputation to his sons, August and George. In the lapse of years the inheritance has grown so that now the name of Kruse on a piece of store furniture is a synonym for honest value.

In the year 1902 there was also established a small concern for the manufacture of metal window fixtures. In 1904 Mr. Thomas Stevenson purchased an interest in the business and incorporated it under the name of The Great Central Novelty Works Co. Since then under his management it has grown to be one of the largest sources of supply in the Middle West.

In the years before and during the war itself the natural course of events affected both these concerns adversely and made necessary economic changes to weather the adverse conditions. It was then the plan was thought out and carried into effect, to effect a consolidation of the two concerns under one building and one expense, each maintaining its separate industry.

This has worked out so well, and has been so beneficial to each branch that it is now the further intention of the two concerns, in the near future to form a holding company to conserve and continue the benefits derived. The name will be the idea being to eventually merge the combined interests under a name which would convey to the purchaser the nature of the products manufactured. This concern is hereby dedicated to the cause of "better" fixtures.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SALES

As there is a growing tendency to disregard ordinary business usage, we wish the following conditions to be regarded as part of the agreement between ourselves and our customers:

- 1—We do not send out any goods on approval. Goods ordered must be accepted and paid for as agreed. Orders must be on regular form.
- 2—Goods are sent out in perfect condition. If damage has been incurred during transit, make your claim to the carrier. While willing to push your claim at our end, we refuse to accept any responsibility unless we have a notation of damage from the agent of the carrier at your end.
- 3—Claims must be made immediately upon receipt of goods.
- 4—We do not permit cancellation of orders upon which we have incurred expense in labor and material. Unreasonable delay or failure to observe promises on our part will alone justify cancellation.
- 5—Our terms are, when properly rated—
  - Net cash 10 days on Show Cases and Store Fixtures.
  - 2% 10 days, net 30 days, on Window Fixtures and Accessories.
- 6—Interest is charged on all past due accounts at 1 per cent per month.
- 7—In ordering give catalogue number of article, the finish, the number of pieces wanted and the shipping instructions. This will save delay.
- 8—If not rated in a regular agency book, give us references, local if possible. On all goods sent C. O. D. we allow a special discount of 2 per cent on Store Furniture and 5 per cent on Window Fixtures and Accessories.
- 9—When goods are priced in dozen lots, we will ship parts of a dozen as requested at same ratio.

Finishes in Metal—Oxidized Copper, Bronze, Nickel or Brush Brass.

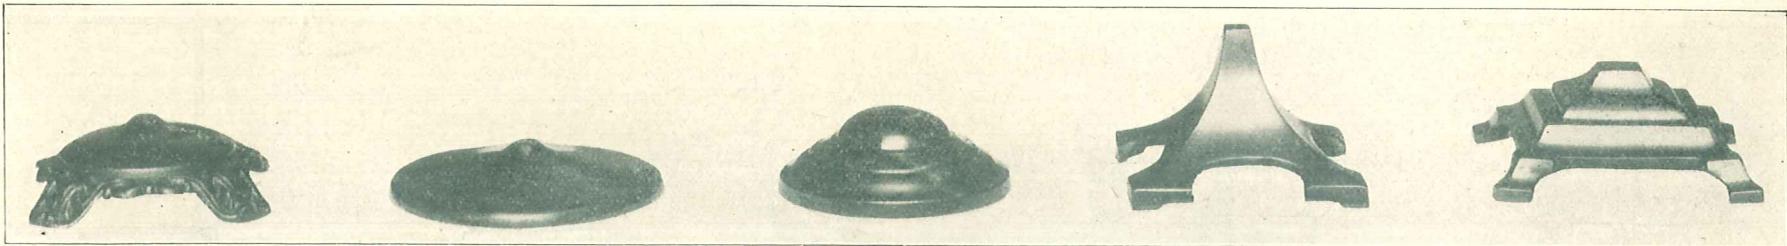

Finishes in Wood—Any shade of Mahogany, Walnut or Oak. Special finishes will be matched if sample is furnished. Otherwise we furnish our regular shades. Unless otherwise stated all fixtures are varnish finish, either dull rub or polish. Ivory or enamel finishes are more expensive.

THE "SELLMORE" TIE DISPLAY STAND

No. 521 Undraped, Capacity 48 Ties

was designed both literally and figuratively to shed more light in the successful selling of neckwear. The demand for a fixture of this type first caused its invention and the intelligent criticism and advice of experienced neckwear men finally evolved the stand as it now appears. Its advantages are apparent even to the casual observer. Each tie hangs completely visible and does not interfere with its neighbor. This is accomplished by proper spacing and construction of the hanger bar. There are enough spaces on this bar to show the usual selection of colors. The bar is placed at just the right point to have the ties clear the case, and at the same time not to hide the beautiful base. The hood reflector is stationary, of sufficient size and lighting capacity (two lamps in each), and is so focused as to throw a regular flood of light across the front of the ties.

The fixture is solid brass throughout; finished only in a beautiful statuary bronze, a finish that is durable as well as ornamental. This finish on brass is practically indestructible. The small sign holder in front of the reflector is necessary without being conspicuous.

The base is 8" diameter—felt padded—the standard  $\frac{3}{8}$ " heavy brass tubing.

The Rack is wired complete so that all you have to do is to screw the attachment plug in your own socket. Six foot of Silk Cord permits any reasonable connection.

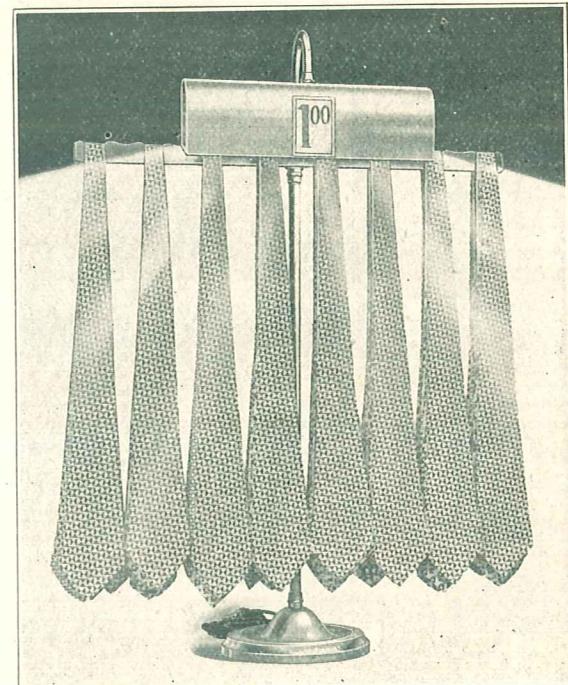

When to a tie rack that is singularly complete in itself, you give the added attraction of proper illumination, bringing out the hidden beauties and making more attractive even the less elegant patterns, you have done all in your power to sell your goods. Can you afford to do less?

When 75 per cent of ties that are sold—sell themselves—can you afford to display them less intelligently than your competitor? Well has a tie stand been called a silent salesman and our "Sellmore" speaks with an authority and persuasion all its own and leaves others far behind. Under its magic rays the exquisite harmonies of color are revealed and beauty unsuspected makes buyers of chance passers-by.

Our trade has been demanding an extension clothing stand of wood, and in reply we have made two different styles. One matches the No. 200 line of bases and standards, and the other is on the Adam type base, which we consider the most dignified and impressive of all lines. To finish out the windows uniformly, we have also added the Adam pedestal to go with the stand, and also slabs of various sizes. We finish ordinarily in mahogany, but find quite a demand coming in for circassian walnut finishes. Our prices cover any one color except ivory, for which add 15 per cent.
